BEET-ROOT AND BANKING.

The cultivation of beet-root is a charming occupation, and Congress has recently voted a bounty for it, but it cannot be said that experimental industries of this kind are calculated to enrich the country or develop the growth of trade. There is no reason why beet-root should not completely supplant the sugar-cane, for which the Republic has made such tremendous sacrifices. If beet-root gives 12 per cent of saccharine, and may be cultivated in 12 of the Argentine Provinces, while sugar-cane gives only 9 per cent and is confined to 4 Provinces, the former would seem likely to annihilate the latter industry, even if Congress had given no bounty whatever.

We feel, therefore, the most profound sympathy and poignant regret for the gentlemen of Tucuman, who are threatened with wholesale bankruptcy by this new move of Congress, and we are not surprised to see by yesterday's telegrams from that province that there is quite a panic about the increased duties on alcohol. The zeal for promoting new industries, at the expense of old ones, is a mania with Congress. First of all sheepfarmers were heavily taxed in order to promote the cultivation of wheat and linseed, and to the same end the Government spent 5,425,000$ to introduce "agriculturists" from Europe. Secondly a heavy bounty (in the form of 120 per cent import duty) was given to sugar-growers, while taxes on grain-growing were invented in Santa Fé, Cordoba and Entre Rios. Thirdly, Congress proposes to favor beet-root instead of sugar-cane, by means of a bounty for the former, while subjecting the cane growers to a heavy tax on alcohol.

This kind of legislation is supremely ridiculous, and no one knows where it may end. As soon as the whole of the territory of Santa Cruz is under beet-root we shall find a special tax (like that on wheat-growers) is to be imposed, and a bounty offered for the cultivation and exportation of cauliflowers. The single province of Buenos Ayres could easily put one million acres under cauliflowers and export them in frozen chambers, at an enormous profit, to Rio Janeyro, Lisbon, Marseilles, Liverpool and New York. For this purpose it is only necessary for Congress to decree a bounty of one dollar gold per 100 cauliflowers shipped.

What Congress fails to see is that these bounties, whether in favour of beet-root, cauliflowers or anything else, must come out of the pockets of the people to enrich a small number of interested persons. Mr. Hansen very properly called attention to the fact that all spoon-fed or artificial industries are a curse of the greatest magnitude; they rob 4,000,000 of people, to benefit a gang of "cunning patriots," who talk loudly of national industry, when they mean national plunder.

In the meantime the best interests of the country are sacrificed by wanton and excessive taxation. We published yesterday a statement of the Bank of Azul, shewing that it is harassed with 6 taxes. The purpose of such legislation would seem to be to crush banking industry, the most necessary of all. A country may progress without beet-root or cauliflowers, but not without banking, and yet when these Rural Banks begin to thrive in the province of Buenos Ayres they are overwhelmed with taxes.

The old story of killing the goose that laid golden eggs has been exemplified in other countries before now. In the 18th century when the fishing-industry in Holland had reached a remarkable degree of prosperity the Legislature imposed so many taxes that it was said that before a fish was put on the table it was paid for once to the fisherman and three times to the State. The result of so many taxes was that the Barings, Goschens, Frulings, Hoppes and other Dutch bankers left Holland and settled in England. Holland, which was until then the greatest banking and shipping country in Europe, sank rapidly to insignificance, having ruined her two best industries.

This republic of Argentina is a country of great resources, and every effort of mad Protectionists may be unable to effect her ruin. But the sufferings imposed on the people by insane legislation will be severe and of long duration. To grow beet-root by means of bounties is a wicked folly, to ruin private banks by excessive taxation is a nefarious crime. Common honesty and sense would lay down the broad principle that every trade and enterprise ought to be allowed a free field and no favor.

EXHIBITION AT DURAN'S ROOMS.

The preliminary exhibition of goods to be forwarded to Chicago was opened on Tuesday afternoon at Duran's Rooms, Calle Piedad, corner of Artes. The Commissioner, D. Julio Victorica, received the visitors, namely Dr. Romero, Minister of Finance, Mr. Fishback, U. States Chargé d'Affaires, Dr. Decoud, Paraguayan Minister, and some members of Congress, the band playing the Argentine Hymn.

Dr. Romero began by reading a letter from President Saenz Peña, in which his Excellency regretted that he was unable to attend, but expressed his gratification that the exhibition was so well got up, as he had visited it a few days previously.

Don Julio Victorica spoke as follows: When I accepted the arduous post of Commissioner I informed the Government that it would be absolutely necessary to have a preliminary exhibition of goods, before sending them to Chicago. I have had much to struggle against, owing to the monetary crisis, but have succeeded in collecting together an assortment of products that will shew mankind the vastness and variety of our resources. Our collection of wools, grain etc. will not be complete till the end of the coming harvest. You see before you a fine lot of woods, and we are expecting more from Misiones and other parts.

The National Boot-factory, the Match factory and several chocolate makers have promised to send samples. The public schools will also contribute to the show. The Waterworks Co. of Buenos Ayres, the Madero Docks and the Municipality have likewise engaged to provide some interesting exhibits, as well as the city hospitals and orphanages. Moreover next month we shall be able to give statistical tables of the products of the provinces, and of our import and export trade. Photographic views will be presented of our public buildings and of the residences of our merchant princes. We are drawing up a grand new map of the Republic, and a plan of this city. Many other things will also be procured and forwarded in time for the opening at Chicago on May 1st 1893.

Notwithstanding our precarious financial position the Government gladly lends itself to take part in the Columbian celebration at Chicago, in order to shew the assembled nations how rapidly Argentina is progressing. The elements of wealth and industry here collected are the best proof of our splendid resources. It is now 41 years since the first of these exhibitions was held at Hyde Park in the first Crystal Palace that was ever made, and men of one hundred nations accepted the cordial invitation of the people of England, the classic home of Liberty.

Some years later at Paris the Argentine Republic made its first appearance among competing nations, and shewed with pride the samples of her pastoral industry. At the coming exhibition of Chicago we shall not only be able to shew our fleeces, grain and other products of a rich and fertile soil, but also our manufactures, at present in their infancy and destined before long to hold a high place in the markets of the world.

Labor is the law of human progress, and however numerous our flocks or rich our soil we cannot seek to advance among nations or to promote the welfare of the masses without covering the land with factories, to manufacture necessary things as other nations do. If we look around we see on all sides the triumphs of Protection and of high tariffs, which every civilized nation has adopted to promote its rising manufactures, since Protection is merely the high-road to arrive at Free Trade. In this country we must beware of carrying the Protective tariff to an excess, which might make the prices of the vulgarest commodities rather too dear for the general public.

The articles here exhibited shew that we have left long behind the conditions of pastoral and agricultural life, and that we are marching steadily onward in the path of manufacturing industry. The names of the men who founded these manufactures are deserving of honor and will one day be written in the Golden Book of the Republic.

Meantime I gladly fulfill the orders of the President in conveying the thanks of the nation not only to the manufacturers, but also to the grain-growers, sheepfarmers and others who have contributed the present exhibits for the World's Show at Chicago, and in a special manner to the Commissioner, Don Julio Victorica, who has displayed so much energy, patience and skill, in collecting these various articles at very small expense to the national Treasury.

OUTRAGES AT BOLIVAR.

This town is in a state of extreme alarm. More than 150 Gendarmes have been collected, under the command of Col. Mena. Gangs of policemen are scouring all the adjacent camps of Guamini, Pegujó, Nueve de Julio, Tapalquen etc. In the town and outskirts of Bolivar the police break into the houses, under the pretext of searching for arms, beating the colonists and carrying them off prisoners. The usual hour for breaking into the houses is between 3 a.m. and sunrise, causing the utmost alarm among families and threatening to shoot them unless they give information where the escaped colonists are hiding. The police have maltreated several persons, and sent to prison at Mercedes Mr. Charles Behrens and two others.

Numbers of ruffians belonging to the secret police make it a practice to go to a colonist's house about sundown and ask permission to stop the night, in order to learn what they can about the family and then denounce them. Such is the panic among the colonists that many of the houses and farms are now abandoned: the crops are ripening, but there is no one to cut them.—Prensa.

Ed. Note.—Is it possible that neither the President of the Republic nor the Supreme Federal Court can put a stop to such atrocious tyranny?

OUR LONDON LETTER.

BISMARCK UNMASKS.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Nov. 16th.

Bismarck worship exists still, especially in Germany. There is some excuse for it in the fatherland, for it is justly associated with patriotic sentiment. In other countries it only represents the superstitions of the crowd; a part of which is impressed by force and audacity, and servilely submits to them; whilst another part loves force for its own sake; and for the uses it can be put to in domineering, and in the suppression of popular aspirations. In England, the species of idolatry now in question was common to women in general, and to the Times newspaper. It was rife on the race courses, on the stock exchange, in Pelican clubs, Primrose Leagues, music halls and West End slums as well as drawing rooms. In such purlieus it still prevails; and it is not yet safe to speak disrespectfully of the great ex-Chancellor at the "Cri" or at the Gaiety bar. He is a man of imposing stature. He walks about with big dogs and takes big drinks; and in his private life, his friends will remind us, he is so homely, domestic and virtuous, and then he is so frank. "Frank?" some one will say: "What about the Benedetti despatch?" Until this week, the reply would have been—"That's a lie. Prince Bismarck did not want war. It was France that declared war and forced the peace-loving Germans to fight." This is the legend which has lasted for twenty two years. Notwithstanding grave suspicions as to its truth, it could never be refuted. Out of sheer malice, not knowing how to vent his spite against the Government which snubs him, Prince von Bismarck has confessed the truth of what for years this frank statesman has repudiated as a calumny. This is history, and so important to the reputation of Germany and as one more warning to the world against political idolatries and to women and children against the worship of semblances in lieu of realities, I give you again the exact words the ex-Chancellor has just employed, although you may have long since received them. He said:—

"It is so easy to change completely the meaning of a speech by omissions and suppressions. I myself once tried this game as editor of the famous Ems despatch, which the Social Democrats have for twenty years been harping upon. The King sent me the despatch, with instructions to publish it wholly or in part. After I had prepared it for publication by omissions and contractions Moltke exclaimed, 'at first it was a call to a parley, and now it sounds the charge!'"

A little article in this evening's Echo sums up the historical particulars of the Ems despatch so fairly, I cannot do better than quote it. It says:—

"The position was as follows:—In July, 1870, Prince Bismarck was at Varzin, the King of Prussia at Ems, and Count Benedetti, the French Ambassador, who was at Carlsbad, went over to meet the King by the instructions of his Government, and confer with him on the Hohenzollern candidature for the crown of Spain. The King agreed to represent to Prince Leopold that grave difficulties would arise if he accepted the Spanish crown, though he would not promise to forbid him to do so. The promise was fulfilled, for almost immediately afterwards the Spanish Government was informed that Prince Leopold would not accept the proffered crown. Then Count Benedetti was instructed by the French Government to obtain from the Prussian King a definite promise that no Hohenzollern Prince should be allowed to accept the Spanish crown. The Count met the King as he was taking his glass of water at the well, and the King declared that the French Government must be satisfied with Prince Leopold's renunciation. The King sent a despatch which closed with the important words' "Count Benedetti declared himself satisfied with the King's explanation." Those words were suppressed by Prince Bismarck. When the despatch was issued by the Chancellor, he added the statement that the King refused to receive Count Benedetti again. It was this garbled despatch which excited our mercurial neighbours to a fury of passion, and resulted in a declaration of war by France. Montesquieu once said that "the real author of a war is not he who declares it, but he who makes it necessary." The German Chancellor had made the war necessary; he had lived long enough in France to know well enough what would be the effect of his garbled despatch. Prince Bismarck's friends in the German Press, not being able to deny the fact, of course fall back upon another line of defence and contend that war between the two nations had already become inevitable, and all that the ex-Chancellor did was to choose the most convenient moment of beginning the strife. Whether Sovereigns and statesmen could have avoided a war had they tried to do so is a very debatable question. We know now that the French Emperor was already suffering from a fatal disease, and had, therefore, the strongest desire for peace. If Prince Bismarck honestly believed that the very guns would go off of themselves, to use Arthur Clough's phrase, then he cannot be severely blamed for choosing his own time of action; but, otherwise he stands convicted on his own confession of an appalling crime. We append from The Echo of the 14th July, 1870, the exact words of the despatch as it was given to the world by Prince Bismarck:—

"Ems, July, 14.—Subsequent to the reception by the French Government of the official communication that Prince Leopold of Hohenzollern had withdrawn his candidature the French Ambasador addressed a demand to the King of Prussia to authorise him to telegraph to Paris that he, the King, engages at all future times to refuse his consent should the Prince of Hohenzollen, resume his candidature. The King refused to receive the Ambasador again, and sent word to him by his aide-de-camp that His Majesty had no further communication to make to him."

Whilst the German press is hotly divided on the subject, some pointing in ridicules to the stain which has appeared on the National idol and others busy whitewashing the "damned spot" that will not "out," the French receive the confession with a shrug of disdain. The stars fight for the popular cause in Europe as in the United States.

Ogreism is dying.

THE WORDSWOTH MAILS.

According to a telegram from Rome the Primate of Ireland and Archbishop Vaughan will be among the Cardinals created at the next Consistory.

A Washington correspondent telegraphs that the United States Government has discovered that it has been supplied by one of its agents with false information as to the Alaska seal fisheries, and has in consequence advanced certain arguments in support of its case in the Behring Sea dispute which would not otherwise have been urged.

The late Duke of Marlborough's remains were laid in the family vault in the chapel of Blenheim Palace. Besides many relatives and friends of his Grace, a large number of tenantry attended the obsequies.

The Colston Banquets were held at Bristol. Sir George Trevelyan, speaking at the Anchor Society's festival, defended the action of the Government in appointing the Evicted Tenants' Commission, and characterised Sir James Mathew's address as worthy of a statesman and of a high-minded judge. At the Dolphin Society's dinner Lord Ashbourne said that the proceedings of the commission had been a painful revelation and the conduct of the president most unfortunate.

Lord Salisbury, in a letter on the retention of Uganda, says that we shall never again have such a chance of crushing the slave trade, which must die out if the line of the Nile is held and the railway constructed.

Damages amounting to £700 were awarded to the petitioner in the divorce case of Hutchison v. Hutchison and Webb, in which the co-respondent was a doctor who had been called in to attend the respondent. In the suit of Dr. Charles T. Parson for a dissolution of his marriage by reason of his wife's adultery with Mr. Bertram Knight, an engineer, the petitioner obtained a verdict for £1,000.

Berlin, 14th.

The Kaiser and Kaiserin came to town from Potsdam early this morning in order to greet the Empress Frederick, who reached Berlin a couple of hours sooner from Munich. It has been stated recently that King Albert of Saxony was very much opposed to the Army Bill and that he was going to confer with the Kaiser on the subject whilst out shooting with him near Berlin. This is a pure fiction, for King Albert, although he fully appreciates the financial sacrifices involved in the new measure, has all along approved of it, deeming that the safety of the Empire can only be secured by its being accepted by the Reichstag. Being the burning question of the day in Germany, the two Monarchs discussed it in general conversation at their meeting on Saturday, but not with a view of amending the bill, which had met with the approval of the Federal Council. It may reasonably be supposed that Count von Caprivi will not fail in his speech in the Reichstag to impress upon his hearers the importance of King Albert's acquiescence in the principles of the bill, inasmuch as his Majesty is one of the few Generals surviving who fought with the late Kaiser Wilhelm I. in 1870, and still enjoys the reputation of being one of the best living authorities in military matters in the Empire.

Vienna, Nov. 14th.

Several of to day's newspapers, in commenting upon the Czarewitch's visit to Vienna, regard it as a complimentary reply to the statement made by Count Kalnoky before the Delegations, that the relations between the Courts of St. Petersburg and Vienna had never been anything but excellent, and had lately undergone no change. Much comment has been excited by the fact that the Empress of Austria not only received the Czarewitch, but also attended the Court dinner in his Imperial Highness's honour. Her Majesty has not been present at any such State function since 1888, having absented herself from Court festivities even during the Emperor William's visit. Attention is also directed to the extreme cordiality which marked the Czarewitch's welcome by the Emperor at the railway station and his Majesty's conversation with his illustrious guest.

Madrid Nov. 16th.

A dispute between the convicts and warders in the prison at Tarragona culminated yesterday in a mutiny. The convicts completely gained the upper hand, and troops had to be summoned to assist the authorities. A desperate conflict ensued, in the course of which the troops fired repeatedly upon the convicts, of whom nine were killed and sixteen seriously injured. The frequent occurrence of mutinies in Spanish prisons is mainly due to the comparative ease with which the convicts are able to gain possession of arms.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 16th.

According to the Bourse Gazette, the gold specie in the Imperial Bank at the beginning of the present month amounted to 124,000,000 roubles.

MR. GRENFELL'S CONSULAR REPORT ON URUGUAY.

The Republic of Uruguay, has a sea coast and river border of 625 miles, and contains an area of 63,320 square miles. The predominating aspect of the country is that of an undulating prairie, becoming hilly towards the north and northwest. No woods or forests, in the strict sense of the word, are to be found, till towards the extreme north-west of the Republic, but fire-wood is plentifully obtained from the undergrowths and belts of woodland found on the borders of the various rivers and rivulets. The most important rivers that traverse the country are the Santa Lucia, Rio Negro, Qneguay, Daiman, Arapey and Yaguaron. The northern departments, such as Salto, Tacuarembo, Cerro Largo, Minas, Trienta-y-tres, are the actual mining districts, and no doubt, if properly worked and railway communication opened up, are capable of producing good results. Gold, silver, copper, lead magnesium and lignite coal exist in certain quantities throughout the above-named districts, and several mines are being worked. The principal gold mining company at present is "The Goldfields of Uruguay Company, Limited," and the 36th ingot of gold, weighing 352 ozs., being the entire yield for the month of March, has just been sent home to England.

No finer climate exists in the world, and few to equal that enjoyed by the inhabitants of Uruguay. In mid-winter, June, the thermometer averages 50 degrees, although at night it at times falls to 32 degrees, so that frost is not unknown; but it has never been known to snow.

The financial crisis that overtook the country about the middle of 1890, coupled with the critical state and financial collapse of the Argentine Republic, and the revolution that broke out at the same time in the city of Buenos Ayres, caused a state of panic which paralysed commerce and depressed stocks and securities to such an extent that ruin was widespread. Towards the end of the year great financial houses in London, which had financed River Plate loans and railways, found themselves in difficulties, and unable to render any assistance to the tottering financial position of the Argentine Republic, so that in falling she dragged the Republic of Uruguay with her, and plunged her into the same sea of hopeless ruin and chaos as herself.

The effect of this on the commerce of the country will be seen by the following figures:—

	Imports.	Exports.
1889	36,800,000	25,900,000
1890	32,300,000	29,000,000
1891	18,900,000	26,900,000

It is an undeniable fact that the productive and hence the exporting powers of this country have not been developed to the extent they might have been, owing to the paucity of labour. Although the natural increase is in excess of that observed in older and more settled countries, it will be long before Uruguay possesses a population at all in proportion to its area. At present the calculated density is no more that 11 to the square mile. The desired multiplication of the inhabitants must for a long time to come depend upon an influx from abroad. The attempts hitherto made to stimulate immigration by offering free passages, besides being very costly to the State, have for most part resulted unsatisfactorily. The natural inducements are less than in the neighbouring Argentine Republic, and it seems probable that the best solution is to be found in enterprise and public spirit on the part of the great landowners. For British immigration Uruguay hardly affords field, the difference of religion, habits, language, Government, &c., are strongly against it; but for immigrants from Southern Europe it is a most suitable country.

The financial difficulties in which the country became involved in the year 1891 probably have been the cause of the enormous diminution of the imports for that year. The increase of the population, more especially of the towns by the flow of immigration that has of late years set into the Republic from Europe, and the development of more luxurious tastes and requirements have probably tended to augment the figures representing the value of the imports of latter years. This was certainly the case in the year 1889, when the country was inundated with the proceeds of loans contracted abroad, and means were facilitated for indulgence in expensive habits and ambitious display to an extent hitherto unknown. No corresponding extension of the indigenous means of production has, however, manifested itself, and the exports have accordingly not increased in the same ratio.

Uruguay is well adapted for cattle breeding, the grasses being of sufficiently good quality, and there being no want of water throughout the year. The official statistics for the year 1889 give 5,519,000 as the number of head of cattle then existing in the country.

The sheep of Uruguay are principally valued for their wool, which is of good quality. The fleeces, however, are of no great weight, 4 lbs. being the average in an unwashed condition. The carcases are small and light; the mutton is not of the best class as compared with that of other countries. The quantity of wool exported for the year 1890 was 47,000,000 lbs. valued at (£1,673,576). An attempt was made some years ago to export sheep from the Republic of Uruguay to England in a frozen state; but the venture met with no success, probably owing to the meat of the merino breed being of an inferior quality.

The horses of the country are hardy, sound, useful animals, averaging 14 hands 2 inches in height. They are bred in the plains where they roam about in herds in a semi-wild state and are seldom broken in before the age of five or six years. Their value varies from 8s. to 10s. for mares, and from £2 to £3 for unbroken colts; and ordinary saddle horses are worth from £5 to £6 a piece. Mares are seldom or never ridden or driven, but great numbers are killed annually for their hides and grease for exportation. During the last five or six years the English thoroughbred horse has been introduced into the country, with an idea of improving the native breed.

Great Britain, in some cases, has increased, and in other cases decreased, her supply of certain goods, but this, I think, has been to a certain extent governed by the demand, although from want of sufficient knowledge on the part of merchants and manufacturers, as has been already stated, a good deal of the iron trade, once entirely in her hands, has passed to Belgium and Germany. On the other hand, she has made great strides in the introduction of her woollen manufactures and in agricultural machinery and implements. Belgium, however, has become a formidable rival, having trebled her iron imports of all sorts. Great Britain has increased her supply of threshing machinery, formerly in the uncontested hands of the United States, and she has doubled her supply of sugar, but lost entirely that of wheaten flour, the Argentine Republic having now the monopoly of this latter article. In table salt she has increased the amount so considerably that it may be said she has the market in that commodity entirely to herself.

It is said that there has been a want of enterprise on the part of the British merchants and traders, and that they allow themselves to be pushed out of market by their active and energetic rivals. There can be no doubt that great efforts are being made by Germans and others to obtain as much as possible of the import trade of Uruguay now held by Great Britain, in some instances almost as a monopoly. British merchants and manufacturers should see the necessity of studying the requirements of this market more fully, and should show less indifference to the competition of other nations if they desire to maintain their present supremacy, for trade once lost is not easily regained.

Recent events have greatly shaken commercial confidence in the fancied prosperity of Uruguay. Great Britain, as well as other nations, has restricted her trade accordingly. It is natural to suppose that as soon as confidence is restored trade with Uruguay will assume its normal proportions. It is well-known that the accumulation of the savings of the inhabitants is very large, and that notwithstanding the low rate of interest obtained from the local banks, these savings are not invested, but simply deposited there, awaiting the course of events. Bubbles of every description have burst, wild speculation has come to an end, stupendous schemes and undertakings have received their death-blow, and property, stock, securities, and even labour have settled down to their probable real commercial value.

UTAH TERRITORY U. S.

REMARKABLE YIELD OF GRAINS ETC.

The climate of Utah is extremely mild, and since the "gentiles" have obtained the upper hand in this former Mormon stronghold, the population has increased very fast. In 1887 Salt Lake City contained about 30,000 inhabitants, today it contains more than 55,000. The following remarkable yields were recorded in 1890, in this territory. One farm produced an average of 96 bushels of oats to the acre, and the year previous the same land produced 104 bushels to the acre. On other farms were produced 90 bushels of barley to the acre; 112 bushels of corn (maize) to the acre; 947 bushels of potatoes to the acre; while 7 tons of clover to the acre is not unusual, and frequently four crops of it are cut during the season. The Chamber of Commerce of Salt Lake City, in its last report says, "The earth is absolutely wanton in its fecundity. Rye yields an average of from 60 to 70 bushels to the acre; turnips from 400 to 600 bushels; carrots from 700 to 1000 bushels; apricots 350 to 500 bushels; peaches 500 to 700 bushels; apples 450 to 600 bushels; pears 500 bushels; plums 300 to 400 bushels; while blackberries, raspberries, currants and gooseberries yield from 300 to 350 bushels to the acre. Hops are indigenous to the soil, nectarines flourish everywhere, figs are raised in the southern valleys, and cotton grows luxuriantly in the lower counties." In Pleasant Valley, out of a population of 2,300, there are over 800 children of the school age, and 378 younger ones. (Principally from Engineering, London.)

The good and charitable ladies called the Hermanas de Dolores, of Belgrano, are organizing a regatta at the Tigre for Chrisfmas Day, and we hope it will put money into their purse for the poor.

CONGRESS.

THE DEPUTIES.

The House met at 3.15 p.m.

Deputy Claros submitted to the House some trivial quesiion about the report of a sitting in which he had taken part.

In the debate on the Budget for the Interior department, $100,000 increase was voted for railways in the republic, and $40,000 for a line from San Juan to Chilecito.

After some further Budget matters being passed, the House rose at 6.30.

The Senate held a secret sitting from 4 to 7 p.m., and appointed Dr. Marco Avellaneda President of the Banco Nacional; Dr. Mariano Unzue Director of the Banco de la Nacion, and Dr. Quirno Costo Minister in Chile.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Yesterday was breezy, dusty and newsy, with lots of plump "canards" flying about, the biggest of the birds on the wing being the imminence of war between big, unwieldy Brazil and tight little B. O. The politicians had something heavy on their minds, and spoke of something very important that is about to turn up in a day or two.

Telegrams from Montevideo yesterday evening reported Mr. John Jackson as at the point of death, and all hope of his recovery abandoned.

Political rumours were flying about as thick as hail last night. It was said that Dr. Roque Saenz Peña will resign his seat as Senator for Buenos Ayres; and that Dr. del Valle is the man to back for next Governor of Buenos Ayres province.

Every man with his heart in the right place ought to go to the Skating Rink to-night, to help the Circolo de Cronistas; as what would life be without newspaper reporters? Not worth living. A bicycle race will be one of the many attractions of the evening.

Yellow Jack is again on the war path in that horrid place Santos. Eleven cases there on Tuesday.

The Argentine whale-boat has suddenly turned up in Russia and beaten everything opposed to it, flying over the face of the waters in a style that made the spectators stare.

Another dinner-concert at the Tigre Hotel to-night, with lots of Bengal fire and rocke's for "postre."

"Marziella" to-night at the Folies Forlet. It is nearly all dance; and there are four grand ballets in it.

The resignation of Governor Pizarro of Cordoba was the bombshell news of yesterday, and it appeared to knock a lot of politicians quite off their feet. Some of them think that the worthy Governor will be induced to remain in the State saddle.

Some audacious rascal picked Mr. Leonardo Pereyra's pocket the other day of $900 and three tickets for chalet raffles. Don Leonardo has more real estate than any other man from Cape Horn to Jujuy, yet does not disdain tempting Dame Fortune to throw some more at his head.

The apothecary again. At Lujan a little girl has died through the local Pestle making a mistake and giving her three grammes instead of three drops of landanum. Throw physic to the "perros" say we. It is much the safest plan.

We are requested by Mrs. Michael Mulhall to acknowledge with thanks the receipt of $100 currency, the annual subscription of Mr. John Moore, Lobos, to the Boys' Orphanage. The Map of Ancient Ireland, shewing the possessions of the various tribes and families, is now on sale at this office, mounted on canvas with rollers and varnished, price $25, for benefit of the Orphanage.

There is capital news from dear old Montevideo. The place is no longer so monstrously dear to live in, and the sweet uses of adversity have forced hotel and lodging house keepers to moderate their propensity for fleecing visitors, especially Argentine bathing Guests during the summer. The M.V.T. announces the glad tidings as follows: "The hotel-keepers here have moderated their prices considerably and many of them have arranged to accept payment in Argentine paper. Some of them have already booked a number of visitors, and it is expected on all sides that the bathing season will be busier than it has been for the last three years. We hear that some of the private lodging house keepers have also come down in their charges —none too soon."

Messrs. Mackern and Shine will be happy to forward Mulhall's Hand-book of the River Plate to all of their subscribers. It is on sale at all their Book-stalls, and at Bolivar, 140.

The failure of a very larg firm of costumiers in Berlin is attributed to the very heavy bill which the German Empress had left unpaid for a long time. It should be observed that Her Majesty is not by any means so simple in her tastes as is often supposed, but, like the Emperor, is fond of display. She rarely wears any dresses more than once.

The Lord Mayor sticks to his anything but happy thought of starting flower gardens in front of the Santo Domingo and San Francisco churches, but he has modified it, and his next step will no doubt be to abandon it altogether. His lordship now says that he does not want to start a Kew Garden or a forest in front of the churches, only one little grass plot, to relieve the public eye and purify the air. Fiddlesticks.

The trial of the "diamonded" saws at Messrs. Rufino Varela and Sons' establishment fairly astonished the spectators. A huge block of Olavarria granite was cut in two in a jiffey, as if it was pasteurized butter. All the mechanics, engineers and others present say that the new saw will make a splash in the world. Everything invented in this part of the globe generally does. Ask our London friends.

We have much pleasure in saluting the Right Rev. Dr. Stirling, Bishop of the Falkland Islands, who arrived per R. M. S. Clyde from Montevideo; also Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young, who arrived per Belgian Mail steamer Wordsworth; Mr. Young is manager of Las Palmas, the sugar-factory of Messrs. Hardy near Tres Bocas, one of the finest establishments in the Republic.

Telegrams yesterday announced the death of Sir Bernard Burke, Ulster King of Arms, at his residence, Tullamore, King's County, at the age of 78 years. He was the author of "Burke's Peerage" the "Vicissitudes of Families" and other works connected with heraldry. The University of Dublin conferred on him the degree of Doctor of Laws, and Her Majesty knighted him on her visit to Ireland in 1854. He was a man of ordinary talents, great assiduity and noble character. Ireland has produced more distinguished men, but none more upright or patriotic.

The Balmacedista conspiracy in Chile shows how hard that political party dies. The telegrams give a hair-standing account of all the blood, fire and murder contemplated by the conspirators. If one half of it be true, Government will have to do a little legal shooting before long.

Who is the poet Watson, who has gone mad? We cannot find him in "Men of the Time." Perhaps some of our poetically-inclined subscribers can throw some light on the matter. Some people consider all poets to be more or less cracked; but this is going too far.

An Argentine syndicate has taken the "vasura" of Montevideo in hand and means to make a fortune out of the dirty stuff. This is easily done. The refuse of Paris has always been a mine of wealth; although not half the odds and ends thrown away in these extravagant latitudes find their way into Parisian "vasura" carts.

A colleague declares that there is a screw loose and "algo grave" going on in Cordoba, as Dr. Garro, instead of being defeated at the elections there the other day, should have been elected. This often happens in Argentine elections. Meanwhile, Governor Pizarro has resigned.

Some tradsmen have adopted a cheap dodge for advertizing, viz sticking a small announcement of their wares on the backs of the shinplasters in circulation. We should say that the "dignidad" of the nation is involved in the matter, and it must be somebody's duty to look into it.

Girls who do not dance at all are called wall-flowers, while those who waltz to excess are often a little dazy.

Clara: "I want something to match my head to-night. What would you wear?" Maude: Something light."

A concession for alligator hunting in the Tecolutla, Naulla, Papaloapam and Coatzacoalcos rivers has just been granted. The concessionaire is to pay the Government $5 for every ton of alligator skins obtained, and 70 cents for every ton of alligator fat. Base-ball is now an

Passengers from River Plate Ports are conveyed by any first class steamer they may select, and arrangements have now been made allowing them to tranship in Rio immediately on their arrival, should the connecting steamer be in port at the time. (N.B. The U. S. and B. M. steamers are usually in port three or four days prior to the date fixed for sailing.)

Staterooms and berths will be allotted to passengers here, through to destination.

Connection from the R. Plate:

The last opportunity for passengers from the Plate to connect with the s s. SEGURANCA at Rio as above, will be by the L. & H. L. steamship, WORDSWORTH hence on the 25th December.

Gold Premium.

FIRST RING..... 181 80⅞
SECOND RING..... 181.30⅞

There was a sharp snap in the gold market this morning and the premium fell at a rattling pace in spite of all the bullish conjectures that the precious metal would be in great demand for to-morrow's fortnightly liquidation. At first brush gold appeared to be short and the market ruled very firm at noon, but as the day grew a plentiful supply of the metal was showered at the ring and prices fell headlong. At noon our well-informed colleague Tribuna issued a bulletin with the unexpected news of the resignation of Dr. Didimus Pizarro, Governor of the Province of Cordoba. Many wondered at the importance attached to such an event, but those who study local politics are of opinion that this new departure means much for the future. It is supposed that Dr. Pizarro resigned in order to enter the National Cabinet, probably as Minister of the Interior. The Cabinet crisis is going through many phases, but this last announcement would imply a flanking movement, as the Cordobese Governor's affinities and those of the Minister elect Dr. Bermejo are

The arrivals of wool at the Central Produce Market and at the Plaza Constitucion continue on a heavy scale Carts are now daily seen carrying wool from Plaza Constitucion to the Central Market for deposit. The business done in both markets this morning was heavy : ever six hundred thousand kilos of wool changed hands. The principal buyers were Frenchmen and Germans. The effect of these large sales of wool was felt in the gold market this afternoon and will no doubt be still more felt to-morrow. Exchange was also a shade firmer this evening at 47 7|16 to 47¼d. on London and 4.99 fcs. to 4 99½ fcs. on Paris.

Both maize and wheat rose in the produce markets this morning. Maize rose to 6$ per 100 kilos for "blanco" and "amarillo" kinds for local consumption. Wheat for local consumption rose also to 7.20$ B/2 per 100 kilos. This revival in grain was quite unexpected.

Advices from the rural districts state that the recent frosts have done much harm to the wheat fields in the South. The maize fields in the West have suffered also, but slightly.

Farmers in the South, especially in the vicinity of La Gama, complain of want of rolling-stock on the Great Southern Railway. It appears that there is an immense quantity of produce at La Gama waiting for waggons.

Messrs. Devoto, Balbiani and Co. sold this morning 150,000 kilos of wool as follows:—

North wools at 5.50 to 6.20$ per 10 kilos.

West do 6.50 to 7$ do.

South do 7 to 8$ do.

The gold market ruled weak at the second ring, closing at 181.30% for to-morrow, 181% for the end of the month, and 179¾ for end of January. La Plata Cedulas were ten cents firmer.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the second ring to-day:—

Advices from Montevideo announce that the land company called the Agencia de Tierras held a meeting of its shareholders, when it was unanimously resolved to liquidate the company, which, we believe, was started some three or four years ago by Buenos Ayrean capitalists, who then believed in the future of Banda Oriental. The delusion has proved to the investors a very serious loss, property has fallen in Montevideo much more than in Buenos Ayres. In fact, Montevidean property of every description may be placed on a parity with Buenos Ayrean cedulas.

The Caffaro of Genoa publishes a most brilliant article about the Banda Oriental and its products, and about Montevideo, which it terms the city of flowers and compares it to the ancient Smyrna, and says that there are few cities in Europe that can compare with Montevideo in the variety of roses, and that a country so blest by nature needs but a few intelligent men directing its affairs to be one of the most favorite spots in the world. It speaks very favorably of the Cunapirú gold mines, and says that the gold zone of Tacuarembó covers 15,000 kilometres square, that there are at present 5 gold-mining companies working these gold veins, and that there are also silver, copper, lead and graphite mines; the latter are worked at Colonia and the copper at Maldonado. As regards marble, the Republic is very rich in white statuary and in green; also in blue and red granite, which pave the streets of Montevideo and beautify its houses. Messrs. Smith and Monzani have exhibited in the Genoa exhibition rich mineral waters from the Banda Oriental, and Messrs. Perua and Colombo have won a gold medal at the same exhibition for Oriental medicinal plants grown on the banks of the Uruguay and Rio Negro. Our Italian colleague thinks the vine is the future of the Banda Oriental and venerates the name of Francisco Videla, an old Spaniarss who passed his life planting vines and whose son has now a large and important vine establishment at Toledo and Villa Colon, which produces yearly 300,000 kilos of grapes. M. Harriague has another great vineyard covering 200 hectares in Salta, which last year produced 200,000 litres of wine; silver medals have also been given to Luis Lerena Lenguas, Pablo Varzi, James Hons, Gonzalez Moreno, Bonilla Hnos., Margat and others, and the vines are so extending on the slopes of the hills in the Banda Oriental that soon they will produce not only enough of wine for local consumption but also for export to Brazil. The fertility of the Oriental soil is such that our Genoese colleague says that agriculture is progressing for the last 20 years in geometrical proportion, which we regret to say we rather doubt: however, he gives the following figures:—

	Hectolitros.
Wheat crop in the year 1870....	135,000
1891.....	420,000

and in former years the wheat was limited to the departments of Canelones and Colonia; now it extends over the whole country. The railway runs from Montevideo to Rivera 140 leages or say 700 kilometres; it is only a year inaugurated out there and yet around the Railway stations have sprung up numerous colonies. Maize is also becoming a great crop and one of much importance, not only to meet the local consumption as forage for the animals, but also to supply the various distilleries established in Montevideo. "La Gran Distileria Oriental" requires 40,000 kilos a day to keep going, La Estrella consumes 20,000 a day. The maize crop of 1891 reached 340,000 hectolitros and the average yield of a hectare of land is 30 hectolitros, and two crops can be sown in the year of a certain description called, 'cuarentino.' With equal abundance all other cereals are produced in the fertile farms of the Banda Oriental; rice, barley and linseed grow splendidly, and as for the potatoe the Uruguay beats Ireland hollow and everywhere gives two crops in the year. Everything that grows in Italy grows in Uruguay, where snow is never seen. The editor of the Caffaro merits some expression of thanks for his captivating chapter on the beautiful Banda Oriental, and we think president Herrera might well afford to give him a few hectares of public land gratis whereon to start a new Genoese colony.

The death of Don Miguel A. Calderon, one of the founders of Chivilcoy, is announced; deceased was much esteemed by all who knew him; he lived to see Chivilcoy realise all that Sarmiento predicted for it; and here let us remind our readers of the wisdom and foresight of old Mr. Sarmiento, who predicted for the country 100 Chivilcoys; to-day we have 1000 Chivilcoys in this Republic, and it is a coincidence that our new Minister of the Interior, Dr. Bermejo, is a native of Chivilcoy. The day that Chivilcoy influences rule this country, deficits, moratoriums, excessive taxation and political corruption will be at an end.

The sale of one of the grandest houses in this city is reported. We believe the price paid is half a million, but as we can't catch the broker who did the business, we stand back from further details until we find him.

Sir William Young, the London director of the new English Bank of the River Plate, has had frequent interviews with the President of the Banda Oriental, at which the members of the liquidating committee attended. We hope that Sir. William Young will receive every assistance from the Government and the creditors of the Bank to bring his mission to a successful termination; the creditors must not be too grasping, as with a little patience they will all get paid in full.

The Bolsa was rather breezy with news to-day; what with the telegrams from Chile about the attempted Balmaceda revolution, the troops under arms last night in Montevideo and messages coming up from the Mount announcing the probability of a war between the Banda Oriental and Brazil, the decree of the National Government accepting Dr. Quintana's resignation without first publishing the Minister's note; and last not least, a telegram from Rosario with the astounding news that an order had arrived from Buenos Ayres embargoing one of the stations from Rosario to Cordoba. These were the topics which held the collective Bolsa mind this morning; there were brokers who sat on the rails predicting a River Plate conflagration from the revolutionary embers on the Rio Grande frontier, whilst there were others who laughed at the whole affair, qualifying it as a storm in a tea-pot. The Balmaceda news from Chile astonished no one, and not much importance was attached to it.

Messrs G. Kelsey and Company sold to-day at the Central Market the following wools:—

Kilos.	From	$
15,000	fine wool. .. Vedia	7.00
8,000	do .. .. .. E. Rios gold	2.95
2,000	lambs' wool.. Saavedra	7.00
3,500	do ... . Arrecifes	7.00
2,500	do .. .. .. Mercedes	7.00
2,600	do .. .. .. Gualeguay "	2.70

A correspondent writes from Bahia Blanca:—

"I think it would interest your readers to know that 4,576 bales of wool, or about say, 20,000 kilos have already been shipped from this port. Shipments have commenced a month earlier this season compared with last, and the above quantities are about equal to ⅓ of the total sent from here last season. In a day or two we shall have three ocean steamers loading produce for Europe (direct) alongside the Southern Railway Mole."

Charters in Rosario during November—

Danish bgtin. Lara, 243 tons, to load hay at Rosario for Rio Janeiro; rate $2.10 U. S. gold per 40 c.f.

Argentine bk Beatrice, 506 tons, do do for Santos, $3.00 do.

British bk Queen of the North, 393 tons, do do for Rio Janeiro, $2.20 do.

Norwegian bk Juno, 343 tons, do do for Bahia, $1.60 do.

British bktin Persia, 578 tons, do do for Rio Janeiro, 2.10 do.

Norwegian bk Atalante, 569 tons, do do for Santos, 3.00 do.

Swedish bk Barranca (rechartered,) do bones at Rosario for Philadelphia, £735 lump sum.

Norwegian bk Platon, 464 tons, do bones at Rosario for channel, £530 do.

Nor. bgtin Jonas Rein, 158 tons, do general cargo at Rosario for San Francisco, 10s per 1,000 kilos and back to Rosario with mate 1 real per 15 kilos.

Nor. bktin Bieu, 338 tons, do hay at Rosario for Rio Janeiro, $2.20 U.S. gold per 40 c. f.

Nor. bktin Lekna, 197 tons, do do for Rio Janeiro, 2.25 do.

German bgtin Adler, 250 tons, do do for Santos, 3.05 do.

Italian bk Antonio, 495 tons, do bones at Rosario for N. York or Philadelphia, 4.00 u s gold per ton.

American schoon, Frank S. Warren, 540 tons, do hay at Rosario for Rio Janeiro, do $2.00 u s per 40 c. f.

Freights in general continue low, owing to so little doing in charters to Europe and the States.

To load hay several vessels have been chartered for Brazil, viz. at $2 and 2.20 for Rio Janeiro and $3 for Santos.

Several lots of hay have also been contracted for by steamers for Rio Janeiro at $1.50 to 2.

Nothing of importance has been done in grain charters, as exporters have abstained from purchasing, owing to the continued fluctuations of the gold premium. On the other hand they do not wish to make contracts till the grain is ready for shipment. For the above reasons no rates of freights have been established for sailing vessels for the channel for orders. Exporters, however, expect to pay about 20s. to 21s for sailing vessels.

In my opinion the rate of freight will greatly depend upon the tonnage available (steamers and sailing vessels) when the grain is ready for shipment, however, it would be well to be prepared for a rise of 2s 3s or 4s in the month of February and March, as the harvest is very abundant.

At the last moment I have heard of the charter of a Lamport and Holt steamer for grain at 22s. to load in January and February 4,000 tons.

Paper Money.

Projectors every now and then start up with plans for curing all the economical evils of society by means of an unlimited issue of inconvertible paper. There is, in truth, a great charm in the idea. To be able to defray the expenses of government without taxation, and, in fine, to make the fortune of the whole community, is a brilliant prospect, when once a man is capable of believing that printing a few characters on bits of paper will do it. The philosopher's stone could not be expected to do more.

The substitution of Paper for metallic currency is a national gain: any further increase of Paper beyond this is but a form of robbery.—John Stuart Mill on Inconvertible Paper Currency.

Paper Money properly means paper made legal tender, and not legally convertible into gold, or anything else, at the pleasure of the holders, or at any given period. No part whatever of the value of such paper money is derived from confidense. It circulates because it is made legal tender, and because the use of a circulating medium is indispensable; and its value, supposing the demand to be constant, is in all cases inversely as the quantity in circulation.—

APPEAL TO IRISH ESTANCIEROS.

The Ladies of the Boys' Orphanage are in want of 500 kilos of unwashed wool to make mattrasses for the orphanage.

So many of our kind countrymen in the camp are now selling their wool that the Committee expect they may be saved the expense of having to buy the wool in the market, and that one or more estancieros may give an order on their broker for the 500 kilos, individually or collectively for which they will receive the thanks of the Committee and the prayers of the orphans.

SALE OF LAND

IN MENDOZA

One of the largest sales of first-class land ever offered to the public.

The portion of land offered contains 71 square leagues, 625 thousandth, or 179 062 hectares of rich pasture land in Mendoza, in the department of 25 de Mayo (late San Rafael), bounded by the river Diamante and surrounded by large and important cattle establishments such as Dr. Jose Vicente Zapata, Segura, Commandante Salas, Calderon and others. The place contains large tracts of valuable woods. Situated only 10 leagues from the town of San Rafael in the direction of Buenos Ayres, within which area and bounded by both borders of the river, are situated the largest and most valuable rural establishments which this rich department possesses, such as Sres. D. Juan Francisco Garcia, Daniel Gonzalez, Cura Matcos, Fabian Correa, Emeterio Garcia, Julio Balofel, Cuadro Nacional, Isaac Espinola, Pablo Zorilla, Arcadio Calderon and many others; these being also large and important mills worked by water-wheels which obtain their power from the same river.

The land marks are:—North by Estancia La Chica of Don Lidoro Calderon, Rosa Salomon, Augusto S. Gil. South: by the river Diamante, the "testamentaria" de Don Diego Alvear and an English Company. West: by D. Emilio Godoy and Engineer Rojas. East: by William Margau and Doña Nicolasa Ortega de Passo.

The land has been surveyed and land marked judicially by the engineers P. N Gumazu and E. Quiroga, by order of the judges of 1st instance, Dra. Ortego and Ruisanez, with a railway in construction by Messrs. John G. Meiggs Son & Co., which runs across this fertile zone.

With $90,000 in Cedulas C Nacionales. The land will be sold in large and small lots, with the lowermost base of 70 cents the hectare!!!

To be bought without cash!!

There are also large valleys and cañadones capable of holding abundant water from rain-falls, besides that which is found in the Laguna del Toro which is situated north and the river Diamante to the South. These lands have also an irrigation concession granted by the Government and embodied in the titles.

The land is rich with a heavy stratum of alluvial soil, and benign climate. It is situate in parallel 34 and 35 which is known to be the zone in which the vine grows most luxuriantly and yields most abundantly. The water on the land is all sweet and wholesome and the camps for the most part high. It may be noticed that the camps by which this is bounded and which are without any of the favourable conditions of this that is to say without a railway and without frontage to the river, have been recently sold for three times more than the price at which this is offered as a base of sale.

Thursday 15th of December

at 3 o'clock in the afternoon

In my rooms

566--PIEDAD--566

Buenos Ayres

I will proceed to sell by public auction these splendid camps in small and large lots at the very low base of 70 cents moneda nacional the hectare. As I have stated above these camps are hypothecated to the value of 90,000 Cedulas Nacionales C, which will be divided proportionately by the Bank to each buyer, or at option pay the Cedulas or continue them at the price in the Bolsa and current rates of the market the day before the signature of the titles, so that with a very small disbursement of money or without any one can acquire excellent camps.

The sale will be effected in the order established in the plans with option of taking one or more lots.

In order that those who are interested in the purchase of these lands shall have an opportunity of going or sending to inspect the place and becoming convinced that the quality and value of them are as we stated these lands are now advertized much in advance of the sale.

The seller will assign in the titles the right of each buyer to the service of writer for irrigation and to the use of aqueducts to the camp without frontage on the river.

For plans and other data and to see and inspect the titles which are without flaw, having been granted by the Government to the actual owner and seller, at my office and sale-rooms 566 Piedad Buenos Aires.

Every buyer without exception will deposit 10 o/o on account of price when he signs the boleto.

IN MERLO, F. C. O., 40 minutes from the capital and 20 squares from the Station, on very high ground, a large chacra of 13 manzanas or 430 square varas of frontage by 300 in depth, equal to 159,000 square varas with a house of six rooms, many fruit trees, two large galpones, large tank, piggery, fine well with pump and pipes laid up to the "alfalfares." I will attend on the grounds on the 18th of the present month of December at 6 o'clock in the afternoon, and will proceed to sell by public auction by order of the present owner, this fine chacra at the upset price of $12,000. No reasonable offer exceeding the above price will be refused. Those desirous of buying may visit the property any day by enquiring for the chacra known as "Conejeria del Frances."

N.B.—On the day of sale and two days before there will be carriages at the station to conduct any one to see the place.

For more details at my office 566 Piedad.
